

Image EDP 14: View of the Grade II listed walls, looking north-west. They enclose the Grade II listed Orangery and Garden reach cottage with little experience of them from the street.

Image EDP 15: The Grade II listed Cobblestones, looking west. The house is set within its own well-enclosed grounds, with little experience from the wider area.

Image EDP 16: A view showing the site (left) in general arrangement with the listed buildings of the Cobblestones, Garden Reach Cottage, Orangery and Walls which are located to the right.

Image EDP 17: A view showing the White Lady Milestone, looking south-west. This shows its location at the busy road junction and in relationship to the Café Rouge.

Image EDP 18: A view showing the setting of White Lady Milestone to the west, on the northern side of Portsmouth Road, looking west.

Image EDP 19: The row of Grade II listed cottages listed as Encott, Westeria, The Cottage and Force Cottage, Nos 28 To 34 Esher Green.

Image EDP 20: Tellisford Close, the 20th century development located to the rear of the Grade II listed cottages on Esher Green. Also located within the setting of the conservation area.

Image EDP 21: View of the Grade II listed Myrtle Cottages, looking west. Showing its architectural interest and also the more traditional building line to the west.

Image EDP 22: View of the setting of Myrtle Cottages further to the west along Myrtle Road, showing the replacement large dwellings of larger scale set further back within their plots.

Image EDP 23: View of Warren Close, which defines part of the eastern setting of the conservation area. Looking north.

Image EDP 24: View of 1930s shopping parade within the eastern setting of the conservation area. Looking east towards the site and showing the lack of relationship between the two areas.

Image EDP 25: View from within the southwestern part of the site, looking south-west. The conservation area boundary runs along the rear of the stables, with the buildings beyond being within the conservation area.

Image EDP 26: View of the northern extremity of the conservation area, looking east. The former firestation is within the conservation area to the left. The site is beyond the green metal gates.

Image EDP 27: View of north towards the site from Esher Green. The wooden backdrop of the Warren provides a positive context to the conservation area in this area.

Image EDP 28: Large apartment building which characterise the northern approach to the conservation area on the western side of More Lane.

Image EDP 29: View of the locally listed lodges to the north-west of the site. Looking west.

Image EDP 30: View of Lower Green Road to the east of the lodges and north of the site, looking north-east.

Image EDP 31: View of the locally listed Southdown to the north of the site. Looking north.

Image EDP 32: View of Site 1 showing the terracing, looking west.

Image EDP 33: View of Site 3 showing the existing dwellings. Looking east.

Image EDP 34: View of Site 4 showing the site and built context to the west of the site. Looking south-west.

Image EDP 35: View of Site 5 showing the hardstanding car park. Looking north-east.
